BARDEN GENEALOGY

Eddy

The compilation of this genealogy was made in 1935 by Mrs. Ruth Story Eddy, page 24-152, who gave a copy of it to Mrs. Everett M. Salisbury, 100 Wheaton Place, Rutherford, New Jersey, who in turn presented it to the Flint Genealogical Society in 1964.

The Flint Genealogical Society had one of its members, Eldon P. Gundry, make an index of the persons involved, and it was placed at the rear. Mr. Gundry found some minor errors which he marked with red pencil. The most serious error was that there were two page 15's. He changed the second of these to page 16 and renumbered the subsequent pages accordingly. He made no other alterations.

Isaac Barden is probably the son of Thomas and Eunice (Booth) Barden of Hanover, Mass., although there is a possibility that he was the son of Isaac and Deborah (Tobey) Barden of Hanover, the brother of Thomas. The tradition handed down in the family is that the three brothers, Samuel, Isaac, and Thomas Barden of Attleboro were the children of Thomas Barden. No record of the births of children to either Thomas or his brother Isaac of Hanover has been found, but we know that Thomas had children for he sold land to his granddaughter. As we know that Isaac of Hanover was the son of Abraham and Mary (Booth) Barden of Middleborough, for his birth is on record in that town, we are very safe in stating that the three Attleborough brothers are grandchildren of Abraham and Mary (Booth) Barden of Middleborough.

The Weld Genealogy of the Borden Family and the Barden Blue Book gives as the parents of the three Attleborough brothers, Samuel, Thomas and Isaac, the Thomas Borden of Portsmouth, N. H., whose marriage is recorded in that town to Mary Briggs on Oct. 4, 1727. There are several arguments against this parentage. First of all is that Isaac Barden is recorded as an inhabitant of Middleborough on the day of his marriage to Experience Miller, also of Middleborough. At the time of his marriage Thomas also gives his residence as Middleborough. These two records would naturally connect the brothers with the Middleborough family of Bardens rather than with the Portsmouth family of Borden. Descendants of the Attleborough family spelled their name Barden, sometimes Burden or Burdin, very, very seldom Borden, while the Portsmouth group kept almost wholly the spelling Borden. The few times that variations occurred could probably be traced to a town clerk who knew the customary spelling of the name in his section.

One argument in favor of Thomas Barden of Hanover as the parent of the three Attleborough brothers in preference to Isaac Barden of Hanover is that Thomas Barden of Attleborough named a daughter Eunice and that name occurs among his descendants several times. Eunice Booth was the wife of Thomas Barden of Hanover. The name Deborah does not occur among the descendants of any of the three brothers, as it would be likely to occur if Isaac and Deborah (Tobey) were the parents.

One other point might be mentioned. Isaac and Thomas of Hanover were workers in iron and owned the Ironworks first in the town of Scituate, Mass. and later in Hanover, when the section of Scituate where they were located was set off as a part of the new town of Hanover. Isaac Barden and his brother Thomas of Attleboro were refiners or forgers or workers in iron for so they described themselves on several deeds. So it seems probable that they were brought up in that trade and learned it by working in the business with their father and later moved to a new town to set up for themselves. Most of the Borden family of Portsmouth and Tiverton were farmers or husbandmen.

To sum up we find in Hanover, Ironworks carried on, according to the historian of Hanover, by two brothers Thomas and Isaac Barden who are descendants of Abraham and Mary (Booth) Barden. We find Abraham and Mary Barden in Middleborough where the son Isaac is born. Later we find in Middleborough another Thomas and another Isaac who are workers in iron or refiners, and who leave and settle in Attleborough. Our conclusion is that they belong to the Middleborough Bardens and not to the Portsmouth Borden.

This introduction has been deemed necessary because it is a statement concerning the parents of the Attleboro Borden wholly at variance with anything which has hitherto been published.

Because of the occurrence of the name Eunice among the descendants and because of tradition that Thomas Barden is the parent of the Attleborough group preference is given to Thomas Barden and his wife Eunice Booth as the parents of Isaac Barden of Middleborough and Attleborough over Isaac Barden and his wife Deborah Tobey.

Isaac Barden (probably the son of Thomas and Eunice (Booth) Barden of Hanover, Mass.) was married at Middleborough, Mass. on July 10, 1755, (V.R.) to Experience Miller, the daughter of John and Waitstill (Clapp) Miller, who was born in Middleborough June 1, 1736. (V.R.)

(Note-- Waitstill Clapp was the daughter of Ezra and Waitstill (Tucker) Clapp. Ezra Clapp was the son of Ezra and Experience (Houghton) Clapp and grandson of Edward and Prudence (Clapp) Clapp. Waitstill Tucker was the daughter of Manasseh and Waitstill (Sumner) Tucker of Milton, Mass. Experience Houghton was the daughter of Ralph and Jane Houghton. Manasseh Tucker was the son of Robert Tucker. Waitstill Sumner was the daughter of Roger and Mary (Josselyn) Sumner. Roger Sumner was the son of William and Mary (West) Sumner of Dorchester, Mass. Mary Josselyn was the daughter of Thomas and Rebecca Josselyn of Hingham and Lancaster, Mass.)

The marriage of Isaac Barden is thus recorded "This certifies that Mr. Isaac Barden & Mrs. Experience Miller Jr. both of Middleborough were this Day joined in marriage by me Peter Oliver Justis ad vice middleb: July 10, 1755" (Note--The term Mrs. was ascribed to a woman of good family irrespective of whether she was married or not. When either the Mr. or Mrs. were used as titles it denoted that the persons were looked up to with respect. Only a very few in any town were thus addressed. At the period marriages were performed by a justice of the peace fully as often as by a clergyman.)

Experience Barden is mentioned in the will of her father, John Miller dated May 16, 1759, in these words, "-I give and bequeth unto my well beloved daughter Experience the wife of Isaac Barden eight pounds to be paid her By my son John when he comes to the age of 21 years as also one third of my movable estate after my debts are paid." (Plymouth Probate 15. 286).

Somewhere about 1761 Isaac Barden left Middleborough and settled in Attleborough. His son John was born in Middleborough in 1759 on the 20th of June. His daughter Anne was born in Attleborough on Jan. 19, 1762. On Oct. 25, 1762 Isaac Barden of Attleborough, refiner, purchased of Joseph Wellman of Wrentham, land near Ebenezer Richardson, Robert Martin and Thomas Sweet. (Taunton Deeds 48.453. Bristol County) and again on Jan. 7, 1763 he purchased of Robert Martin of Attleborough land with a house, bordering on said Isaac Barden's land, Thomas Sweet's land and Rev. Peter Thacher's house. This deed was witnessed by Nathan Cobb and Samuel Barden and Job and John Martin. As the site of the Rev. Peter Thacher's house is known we can tell about where Isaac Barden first made his home in Attleborough.

Sometime previous to 1773 Isaac Barden left Attleborough and settled in Scituate, R.I. for a study of the deeds recorded in that town (Bk. 8, P. 395) reveals the fact that Job Randall, Esq., Isaac Borden, Joseph Carver and Oliver Carver made an indenture agreeing to build in partnership a forge or refinery in Scituate which was called and known by the name of Honewell. In 1777 he is still in Scituate, R.I., for on Nov. 11, 1777 Israel Bates and his wife Mary sold land to him in a deed witnessed by Peter Thacher, Samuel Fuller, Jr., Comfort Fuller and John Doggett, (B.C.D. 58.78). On April 16, 1782 Isaac Barden of Scituate, R.I. refiner, sold to Level Maxwell of Warren 20 acres bordering on Robert Martin, Thomas Sweet, Ebenezer Richardson and Henry Tolman. This deed was witnessed by William T. Miller and Lydia Miller, (B.C.D. 60.527). On the following May 1, 1782 John Tyler of Attleborough sold to Isaac Barden of Scituate, R.I. refiner, 1/2 acre next to land of Isaac Barden and on the west side of the road leading by my house to Oak Hill and bounded thus,--the first corner is a large Rock being a bound of said road, then runs north 26 degrees west

- by said road about 26 rods to a corner on south side of the Road leading from the Meetinghouse of the second Precinct in said Attleborough to Providence, then runs west by said road about 4 rods to the northeast corner of said Barden's land in Attleborough, whereon his House standith. Witnessed by Joan Daggett and Othniel Tyler, (B.C.D., 62.10). On June 1, 1782 Isaac sold a large part of his Attleborough Property for we find the following deed recorded (B.C. D., 62.11.). "Isaac Borden of scituate, Providence County, refiner, for $840. sold Elisha Carpenter of Attleborough yeoman--a farm, a dwellinghouse, barn, corn barn and shop and 70 acres on the southwest side of the Road from ye East Presinct in Attleborough leading to Providence on the Road leading from Oak Hill---comes to road th t leads to Providence, then on the Providence Road--near Benjamin Freeman's land and Alexander Moore's land--William Starkey's Corner. Oak Hill Road is a corner. This deed was signed by Isaac Barden and his wife Experience and it was witnessed by John Hill and Priscilla Hill, who were the parents of his son John Barden's wife (He was not yet married to her) The deed was acknowledged in Scituate on the same date but was not recorded in Bristol County until Aug. 14, 1783 (B.C.D. 62:11). Soon after this "Isaac Borden" of scituate foreman alias worker in iron, purchased of Stephen Harrington of Foster, R. I. land in Foster on the north side of Killingly Road, westward from the dwellinghouse near Daniel Bennett's land--Noah Seaman's--James Dyer. It included 60 acres and a dwellinghouse. The deed was dated Dec. 31, 1782 and signed by Patience Harrington, wife of Stephen and witnessed by John Westcott and Micajah Bennett, (Foster Deeds B.1 P. 7).

In May of 1783 Isaac Barden was a witness of the will of Jonathan Fuller, together with Asher Bennett and John Westcott, all of Foster.

On May 22, 1784 Isaac Borden of Foster sold to Elisha Carpenter of Attleborough, yeoman, 40 acres, being the easterly part of the farm where I now dwell, bounding east on land of James Dyer,--Daniel Bennett--Killingly Road. This was a mortgage deed; On Jan. 25, 1785 Isaac Borden of Foster foreman al worker in iron for 1840 silver dollars--to John Hamman of Foster--land and farm that I bought of Stephen Harrington on north side of Killingly road westward from the dwellinghouse in the range of Asher Bennett's land--Daniel Bennett, John Westcott and James Dyer There were 60 acres. The deed was signed also by wife Experience and witnessed by Francis Fuller, William Blanchard, Jr. and Martin Luther. (Foster Deed Book 1, p.69.) There are one or two other mortgage deeds.

The tradition is that Isaac and Experience went back to Attleboro and died there and that he was buried in a cemetery in the forks of a road, one branch of which leads to Providence.

Children:

- 5th James Barden b. Nov. 15, 1755 at Middleborough, Mass. (V.R.)
- 6th John Barden b. June 20, 1759 at Middleborough, Mass. (V.R.)
7. Ann Barden B. Jan. 19, 1762 in Attleborough, Mass. (V. R.)
8. Margaret Barden B. June 20, 1765 in Attleborough, Mass. (V. R.)
- 9 Isaac Barden, B. Jan. 27, 1768 in Attleborough, Mass. (V. R. ♀)

2 Thomas Barden, brother of Isaac Barden of Attleborough, at the time of his marriage gave as his residence the town of Middleborough. He married Susanna Riggs, the daughter of Jonathan and Sarah Riggs of Attleboro on the 11th of February 1763. She was born July 7, 1746.

He enlisted from Attleborough on Sept. 1, 1779 as private in Capt. Joseph Franklin's Co. Col. Nathan Wyler's Reg't. and served four months and was discharged Dec. 31, 1779. He re-enlisted July 28, 1780 in Capt. Caleb Richardson's Co. Col. Abial Mitchell's Reg't which was raised to re-enforce the Continental army and was discharged Oct. 31, 1780. He was also a member of Capt. Moses Wilmarth's Co., which marched on the alarm to Rhode Island as a section of Col. Isaac Dean's Regt. They seem to have been in service from March to July or August of 1781; It is stated also that he was one of the 5 months men that went from Attleborough to serve in the "Sixth Campaign" that "went to Yorke in 1776".

On July 12, 1777 Thomas Barden, cordwainer, purchased land from Daniel Richardson near Comfort Riggs and bordering on Thomas Wilmarth's land (B.C. D. P. 72, 104). On Nov. 4, 1786 Thomas Barden of Attleborough purchased of Asa Hopkins and his wife Comfort, and Abimelech Riggs a portion of the estate of their "honored father Jonathan Riggs, late of Attleborough deceased" 2/9 part of 2/3 of the real estate. Mother Sarah Riggs also signed off her dower rights (B.C.D. 72, 104) Other purchases were made of Hosea Tiffany, and Amos Wilmarth.

On May 7, 1793 Thomas Barden of Attleborough, Cordwainer, and Susanna Barden ye wife of said Thomas sold to Ebenezer Robinson of Attleborough cordwainer,--all land and buildings we own in Attleborough containing our homestead farm, and two lots--farm bounded south by Eliphalet Wilmarth's land--west on Daniel Richardsons--north on Vinton Richardson's, east to Lieut. Daggatt, Capt. Henry Sweet, and ye heirs of Thomas Sweet 55 acres and the wood-lot Thomas Barden bought of Hosea Tiffany etc. This deed was witnessed by Eleanor Barden and Stephen Richardson (B.C.D. 72, 106.). The record of the births of nine children of Thomas and Susanna Barden are found in Attleboro. One descendant says that there was another child born after the death of the first George and called George. No attempt has been made to verify this statement nor have I tried up to the present (1935) to trace farther the descendants of this Thomas. It is known that some of them remained in Attleborough, and their descendants are found in neighboring towns. One branch went to western Massachusetts and on in to New York State.

Children born in Attleborough (V. R.)

10 Susanna Barden b. Sept. 3, 1763

11. Thomas Barden. B. Feb. 24, 1765.

12 George Barden b. Mar. 15, 1767; d. Sept. 24, 1783.

13 Otis Bardin B. Dec. 6, 1769

14 Eleanor Barden B. May 26, 1772

17 Milla (Molly?) Barden b. July 22, 1782

18 Eunice Barden B. Mar. 18, 1784

3. Samuel Barden, brother of Isaac and Thomas Barden, at the time of his marriage to Elizabeth Fuller gave as his residence Attleborough. They published their intentions of marriage Oct. 15, 1765. No attempt to follow his descendants has been made to date (1935) except to record the births of the children listed in the Attleborough records.

Children Born in Attleborough (V. R.)

19 Eleanor Barden B. Jan 10, 1766; d. Apr. 3, 1766.

20 Betsey Barden b. Apr. 20, 1769.

21 Samuel Barden B. Jan. 9, 1771.

4. Eleanor Barden. There is a tradition that she was a sister of Isaac, Samuel and Thomas. No record has been found as yet (1935) by me to substantiate this statement.

6 John Barden (Isaac) b. June 20, 1759 at Middleborough, Mass. (V. R.) d. Oct 14, 1819; (Gravestone at Colwell Cem. Scituate, R. I.) aged 60 yrs. married Aug. 20, 1780 at Scituate, R. I. (V. R.) Elizabeth Colwell, dau. of Richard and Mary (Randall) Colwell. She died Aug. 11, 1828 aged 73 yrs. (Gravestone at Colwell Cem.)

John Barden accompanied his father Isaac from Attleborough, where he spent his boyhood days to Scituate, R. I. On Dec. 1, 1788 he with Lewis Miller purchased from Oliver Carver his half share in the Horewell Forge in which his father Isaac was a partner. It is not known whether at this time Isaac was still living or whether John had inherited his share of the forge and by the deed from Oliver Carver purchased with Lewis Miller another portion of the partnership.

Oliver Carver of Foster, worker in iron sold to John Barden of Scituate Forgesman or worker in iron and Lewis Miller of Smithfield, blacksmith, 1/2 part of a certain forge or refinery in Scituate called and known by the name of Horewell being the same that was built in partnership by Job Randall, Esq. Isaac Borden, Joseph Carver and the Grantor as may appear by one certain indenture made and bearing date March 2, 1773 and recorded in said Scituate records. (Scituate deeds Bk. 8-.395.)

By 1792 John had come into possession of his father's share for on July 17, 1792 he mortgaged to Benedict Whipple 1/4 (that would be his father's share) and 1/2 of 1/2 share (Scituate deeds Bk. 8 P. 178). After his death his widow Elizabeth (known as Betty Barden) carried on a small store and furnished supplies to the surrounding district. The village now called Ponagansett was then called Bettyville, thus honoring this capable widow.

(Note) Great care must be observed not to confuse John Barden (Name also spelled Borden, Burden and Burdin) son of Isaac Barden of Middleborough with the John Borden who came from Swansea to Scituate about 1738 and purchased land on Huntinghouse Hill and brought up a family. His wife was Mary and his children were Samuel Asa B. July 12, 1738, a physician, at Gloucester and Providence; who married a daughter of Ezekiel Hopkins and had a son, Samuel John b. Mar. 30, 1740; Nathaniel, b. Oct. 10, 1743; Gail b. Sept. 9, 1745.

who married Mary Knowlton; ship-mill, b. Feb. 3, 1747; Ebenezer who married Lydia Knowlton, and Rebecca, who married Thomas Hopkins. She was born Apr. 10, 1755. This is the Borden Family which is so well known in connection with condensed milk)

24 John Barden (John, Isaac) b. Nov. 24, 1786 (bible) d. Mar. 20, 1861. in Ponagansett, Scituate, R. I.; m. Oct. 6, 1811 (bible) Priscilla Hill b. Aug. 24, 1792 (bible) d. Aug. 19, 1824 (gravestone at Barden Cem. Ponagansett) She was the daughter of John and Priscilla (Wilbur) Hill.

John Barden is spoken of in the records as yeoman, so it seems probably that the use of the forge which was on his father's land was discontinued for about where that stood the records speak of a gristmill and a saw mill. In 1825 John Barden and his wife Priscilla give to Joshua Harrington in a deed dated Oct. 6th "One certain tract of land in Scituate with the dwelling house, gristmill, and saw mill thereon standing with all the tools used at and in said gristmill and saw mill" said land lies on both sides of the Ponagansett River --and bounds on land of the heirs of Job Randall, deceased, Thomas Hill's land, Joshua Smith's land and land of the grantor. One bound was near the north side of a spring near the grist mill. The tract included about 11 acres. And the "Said Joshua Harrington for consideration above mentioned to have the privilege to build a dam or dams across said Ponagansett River at any place within his purchase described above to any height not exceeding fifty feet and neither said grantor nor his heirs --to claim any damage for flowage or water above said dam upon land now owned by said grantor." Scituate deeds 12-523.) On April 19, 1826 Joshua Harrington purchased from John and Priscilla Barden another small piece of land adjoining this on the south (Deeds 12-577.) On the 8th of June 1827 (Deeds 13-2. 350.) Joshua Smith and John Bardin make an agreement with Joshua Harrington that the said "Joshua Harrington shall have the right--and authority to cut, dig, build, construct and make over and across the lot of land owned by said Smith, near what is commonly called the Burden Mills, lying in said Scituate and the same keep in repair; a certain canal or trench, said canal or trench to be made and located at least six feet east of the house where widow Elizabeth Burden now lives and said land or trench not to exceed ten feet in width between the walls. Said Harrington to have liberty to take labourers, teams of cattle, oxen and horses on to said lot of land and the same there continue for the purpose aforesaid--doing as little damage as conveniently may be--said trench or canal to go about eight rods on the land aforesaid through the said Smith and Barden -- and the said Harrington covenants with the said Smith and Barden that he will immediately after said canal or trench shall be dug and made in the manner aforesaid cover the same over for the whole length of said lot and the same keep covered over forever thereafter and that he will dig or cause to be dug, a well a little easterly of the gate, which leads to said Harrington's house, and open a gate to the same, so that the said Elizabeth may take water therefrom for her use as long as she shall live; said well to be dug at anytime when the said Elizabeth shall order it--and in case the said digging of the trench or canal should cause any injury to the house or walls thereof, where the said Elizabeth now lives he the said Harrington---to pay all damages and injury arising therefrom. N.B. Said Harrington to cover over said canal or trench so that the same may be passable with teams, and make the dirt over the timbers in the thinnest places at least six inches."

This agreement gives the exact location of the home of John Barden and Elizabeth Barden. It must have been upon almost the exact spot where John H. Barden later built his house.

(Note) Joshua Harrington sold his rights acquired from Smith and Barden to William Richmond 2nd., Richard Bullock and John Andrews of Providence on the second of April 1827 (Scituate Deeds.14-124.)

The Scituate records contain many other records in which John Barden appears as both grantor and grantee.

One deed he made to this son John H. Barden July 28, 1837 in which he sold land bounded by Henry Yeaw, Phebe Corp and Knight Hill. it included about six acres. (Scituate deeds 15,545.)

The first part of the document discusses the importance of understanding the underlying principles of the system. It highlights the need for a thorough analysis of the data and the identification of the key variables that influence the outcome. This section also introduces the methodology used in the study, which involves a combination of theoretical analysis and empirical data collection.

The second part of the document presents the results of the analysis. It shows that the data supports the hypothesis that the system is highly sensitive to changes in the input variables. The results also indicate that the system exhibits a non-linear behavior, which is consistent with the theoretical model proposed in the introduction.

The third part of the document discusses the implications of the findings. It suggests that the results have significant implications for the design and operation of the system. The findings also provide a basis for further research in this area, particularly in the context of the development of more advanced models and the optimization of the system's performance.

The fourth part of the document concludes the study. It summarizes the main findings and highlights the key contributions of the research. The conclusion also emphasizes the need for continued research in this area, particularly in the context of the development of more advanced models and the optimization of the system's performance.

The fifth part of the document provides a detailed discussion of the limitations of the study. It identifies the factors that may have influenced the results and discusses the potential for bias or error. The limitations also highlight the need for further research to address these issues and to improve the reliability of the findings.

The final part of the document provides a list of references and a list of figures. The references include a list of the key papers and books that have been cited in the document. The figures include a list of the key diagrams and charts that have been used to illustrate the results of the study.

John W. Barden in 1844 began to manufacture cotton goods at the Remington Mill in Rockland, a part of the time in company with Joseph Manchester; later in 1852 he purchased half the mill privilege in Ponagansett, in company with Benjamin Potter. The mill having been burned they rebuilt it in 1853. In 1860 Mr. Potter retired and a new company was formed but Mr. Barden still retained one-half interest. In 1860 the capacity of the mill was doubled. The whole village (except for one place) belonged to Mr. Barden and he took a deep interest in the welfare of all his operatives. In 1869 he was elected to the House of Representatives and in 1870-1871 he was a member of the State Senate. The whole village is now the property of the Providence Water Works System.

All the houses and the mill have been demolished.

No 152 Mrs. Eddy <sup>may.</sup> V. 23. 24

Ruth Story Slattery wife of William Alden Eddy
Mrs. Eddy compiled the Eddy genealogy. She was a wonderful person. and when she finished these records she gave me a copy as I helped on tombstone records
